Delridge Library

On May 4th our new library will hold its ground-breaking ceremony. We would encourage our neighbors to come and be part of this exciting event. Pigeon Point is proud that the library is being named after our neighbor and long time community activist Vivian McLean.

21st Avenue Committee Is Formed!

As you have noticed the speed humps are finally back in place. After much squabbling with Seatran we came to a final decision about the height and placement.

There are several other issues presently under discussion by this committee including the path next to Cooper School, possible improvements to the median, proposal to the Pro Parks Review Committee to consider turning the power station into a neighborhood park, school buses and their routes through the neighborhood. There was an article in the Seattle PI on April 23rd that detailed problems that our neighborhood is experiencing with the radio tower. If you missed it you can read the article on our neighborhood web site at www.pigeonpointneighborhood.homestead.com.

If you are interested in helping with any of these issues or getting more information call Steve at 923-0656

22nd Avenue Pocket Park Committee Is Formed!

Many thanks go to one of our neighbors for all of her hard work to date. Sharon Price has spent a considerable amount of her time and energy to get this project up and running. At the north end of 22nd Ave in our neighborhood is a triangle piece of property that has been used as a collection point for trash and weeds for years, which has now been cleared. There have been several meetings with neighbors along with several city agencies to determine what can and cannot be done. There is still a lot to do to make this another valuable asset to our neighborhood. It will feature benches for resting, along with native plants and flowers, a bike rack for those neighbors who are on their way to the bike paths or are on their way back home. If you would like to get involved or would like more information call Sharon at 935-1592.

Old Cooper School Update

Last week the Delridge Neighborhoods Development Association and the Seattle School District reached a verbal agreement for the sale of the building. As soon as all of the details are placed in writing the process of selecting an architect and the anchor tenants will begin. This is very exciting for everyone who has been involved in this for so long. More details will be forthcoming as they develop. Page 2
